

Credo

I believe in the sanctity and goodness of the Whole Earth and all that dwell therein, and in the One Web of Life in which all are mutually sustained and through which all shall find purpose.
And I believe that within the household of the Earth where brokenness exists, it is my brokenness; where estrangement exists, it is my estrangement; where imperfection exists, it is my imperfection.
And I therefore acknowledge that the destiny of my life and the destiny of all other life are one and inseparable:
and I seek a future in which the broken shall be restored, the estranged shall be reconciled, and the imperfect shall find perfection, for myself and all other members of the household of the Earth.

— Roger Irwin (Gyoshin)